11-Year-Old Andres Valencia Takes Art World

Most artists have to wait many years for their talents to be known. Some, like Van Gogh(梵谷), only became famous after he died. But this is not the case for Andres Valencia. The 11-year-old boy has already made millions selling his paintings to art collectors(收藏家). Andres' parents are art lovers and collectors. They began showing Andres to paintings when he was just a baby. The young boy soon began copying famous artworks(藝術品) with great precision(精密度). His father, Lupe, says, "When he was 4 or 5, my wife and I would watch him paint and do drawing, and we were really surprised at what he would do." By age six, the little boy was selling his paintings to family and friends for $20 for every of his work. Over time, Andres began creating big paintings. His masterpieces(傑作) were all inspired(啟發) by artists like Picasso(畢卡索).

Bernie Chase, a family friend and owner of an art museum in New York City, knew Andres' talent from the start. He bought the young boy's artwork every time he visited and even paid $5,000 for one. In December 2021, Chase asked Nick Korniloff, the owner of Art Miami, to show the young artist's work at an art fair. Korniloff agreed(同意), and the rest, as they say, is history. All of his paintings sold for $1.3 million, and this never happened before.

In 2022, the young boy held his own exhibition(展覽) at Chase's gallery. The 35 paintings sold for between $50,000 and $125,000 each. The boy's works also become famous in other countries. One artwork sold for $159,000 in Hong Kong, and another sold for $230,000 at a fair in Italy.

After hearing about Russia's(俄羅斯) attack(攻擊) on Ukraine(烏克蘭), Andres created a painting named "Invasion of Ukraine." The artwork, which showed the terror(恐怖) of war, was inspired by Picasso's famous 1937 anti-war(反戰) painting, Guernica. Andres sold the painting on his website and gave all the money to help Ukraine.

When not painting, Andres is a fifth-grader with math homework. "My son is an artist, but he is a kid first," his mother, Elisa, told The New York Times. "He is a child, not a celebrity(名人)."
